

Specificity control: the circle-direction ablation is real — random 2-D directions do nothing (band-not-diagonal in the sharing matrix reflects shared subspaces, not weak effects)

